

SCHEMA ST4 Web Author – General Terms and Conditions on the timely limited provision of a software [2022-10]

The Licensee has concluded a software license agreement with Quanos. On this basis, Licensee has acquired one or several rights to use the computer program SCHEMA ST4 and installed this computer program.

Starting from 2022-10-18 Quanos offered Licensee an update (SCHEMA ST4 2022 SP2) for SCHEMA ST4. Amongst others, this update comprises includes the computer program "ST4 Web Author". This additional computer program also includes software elements which Quanos has acquired from a third party (in particular FONTO XML) and which is let to the Licensee on the basis of a loan.

The use of this software is effected online in the browser.

In detail:

Quanos grants Licensee a right to use the computer program ST4 Web Author according to the provisions further down below. The right to use is a non-exclusive right, which is limited in time until 2023-06-30.

The right to use is granted on the basis of a loan, i.e. without the Licensee owing Quanos any royalty therefore.

Licensee is entitled to use ST4 Web Author only in the context of its use of SCHEMA ST4.

The online documentation for ST4 Web Author can be found at https://st4doc.infocu.be/explore?cus-tom\_F1198378891=3733110283

The use of ST4 Web Author is effected under the exclusion of any representations and warranties in kind and right. Quanos is only liable in case of intent or personal damages.

The present loan agreement is exclusively subject to German law (with the exclusion of the rules on private international law).

The exclusive place of jurisdiction for all eventual claims arising in the context of the conclusion and interpretation of this agreement, including the duties resulting therefrom, is Nuremberg, Germany.